Something New

This year G.H.S. students selected three girls to lead the cheers at the wrestling matches. Girls on this pep staff were Jaci Krall, Cheryl Nichols, and Kathy McKune.

Another new group at G.H.S. was the drill team composed of twenty girls who performed at half time at the basketball games.

Library Staff

The library staff members assist the librarian in many ways by helping the students with their book selections, by shelving and straightening the books and magazines, and by helping to keep order in the library.

French Club

The purpose of the club is to interest students in the language and culture of France. Among its many activities have been a Crêpe Suzette feed, a Christmas Fête, a Mardi Gras ball, and a one-act play.

Office Staff

The office staff has many duties; members answer the telephone, record attendance, type for faculty members, duplicate and run off tests, and do many other odd jobs. The staff this year consists of twenty seniors and one junior.

Spanish Club

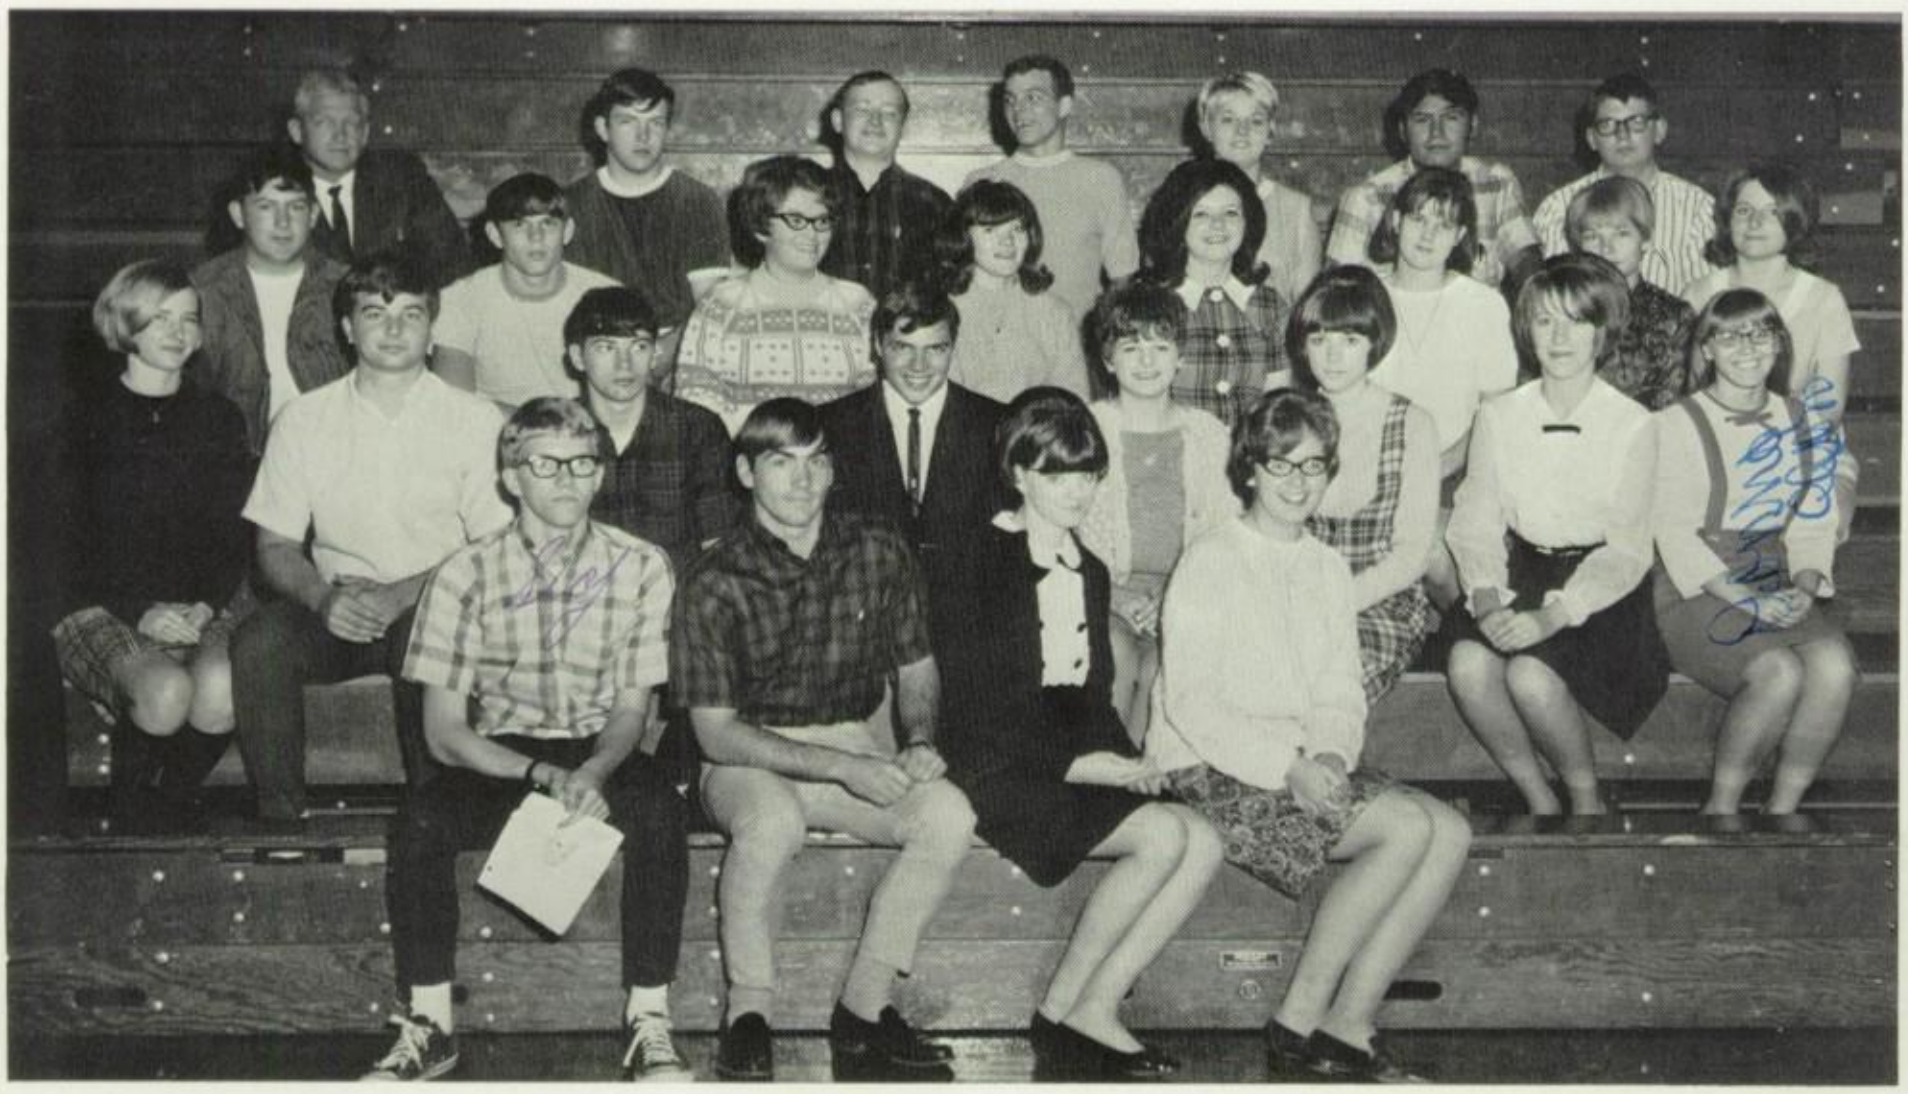
Students enrolled in Spanish are eligible for membership. This year's activities included a Christmas party with its pinata, a spring fiesta, and hearing guest speakers talk about Mexico and other Spanish-speaking countries.

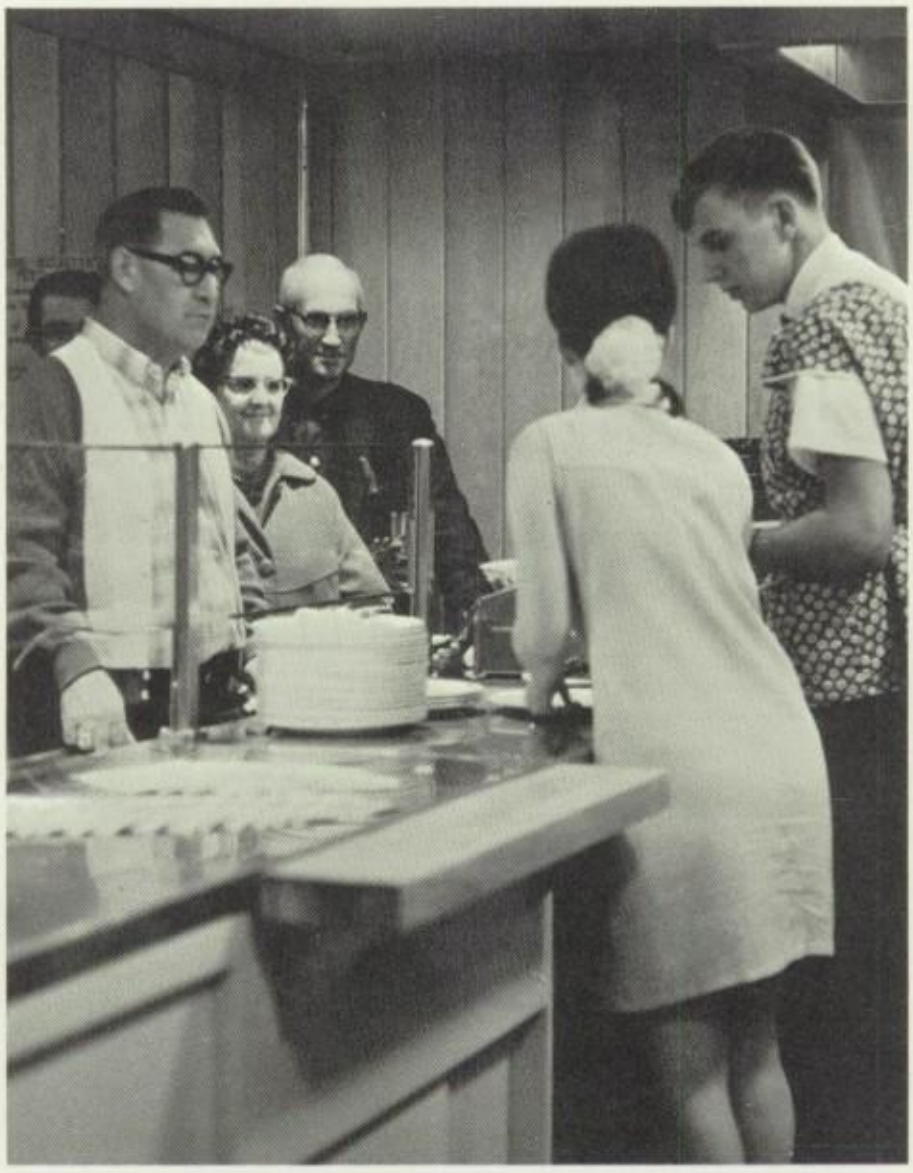
Speech Club

The Speech Club was organized so that members could learn public speaking and parliamentary procedure. Any student enrolled in speech class may join the club. The year's highlight was a trip to the Portland Civic Theater.

Distributive Ed. Club

The D. E. Club is composed of students enrolled in Distributive Education. This year the class made money by raking leaves for various people, by making and selling centerpieces for Christmas, and by selling fruit cakes.





ACTIVITIES

There was lots of work involved in setting up the new field lights and constructing new bleachers.

The new field lights, track, and bleachers were a community project. The Lions Club purchased the lights. Stan Thompson used his equipment to dig the holes and raise the poles which had been purchased by the school. Students attached the cross bars and wiring.

The track was widened by the Booster's Club to a new 9-lane track.

Steel for the bleachers was donated by officials from the John Day Dam, and Harold Gray brought it up with his equipment.

Mr. Gronewald and his students did the welding for the bleachers. P.U.D. employees, iron workers, farmers, the members of the Lions Club and Boosters Club, and many other individuals donated their time and effort to give G.H.S. a good track and field.

These boys were among those who helped bury the wire cables.

Fall Work Day Nets $589 To Help Pay For Football Players' Insurance

G.H.S. students voted this year to have an extra work day in fall to earn money to help pay the insurance fees for boys who could not otherwise turn out for football. This will not take the place of the regular spring work day; earnings from that will go into the general student body as in the past.

Kathy McKune earned her contribution to work day by clerking at Henry's Market.

Sharon Flomer and Charlotte Froehlich served customers at the A & W drive-in.

Ralph Willson, Mike Johnson, and Gene Callan did miscellaneous cleaning and raking at the P.U.D. warehouse.

Mike Fleming and Tom Vezzoso earned their share by raking and setting up rocks at Zozo's.

Dan Emerson contributed a day's wages from his work at Henry's Market.

Laura Owens worked at her regular job in the P.U.D. office.

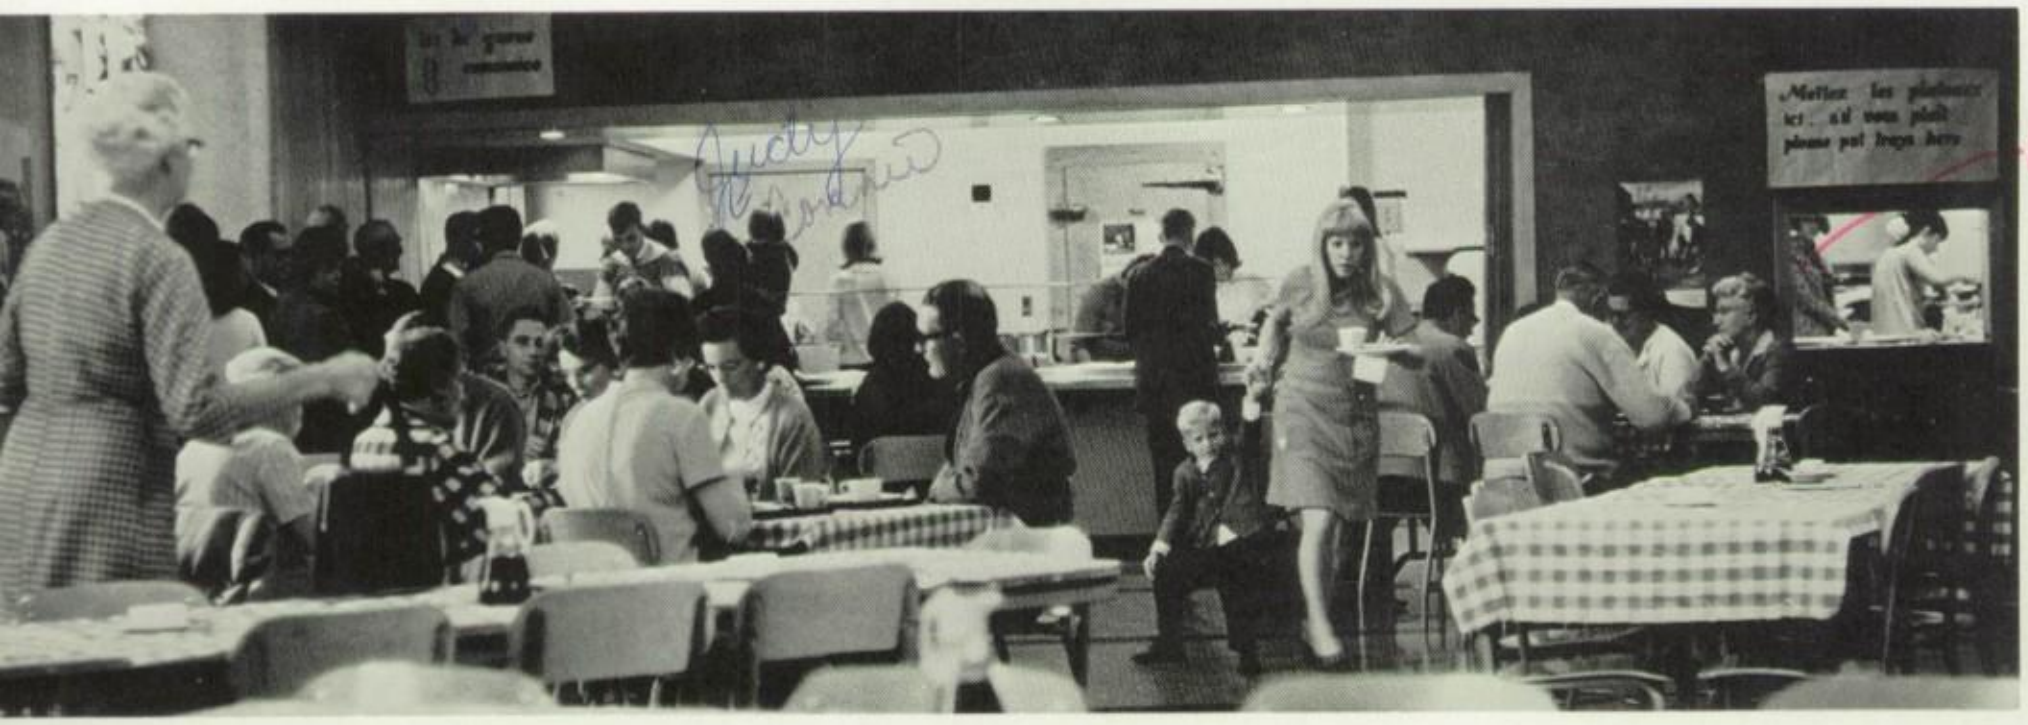
Dale Smith also worked at his regular job at the Sentinel.

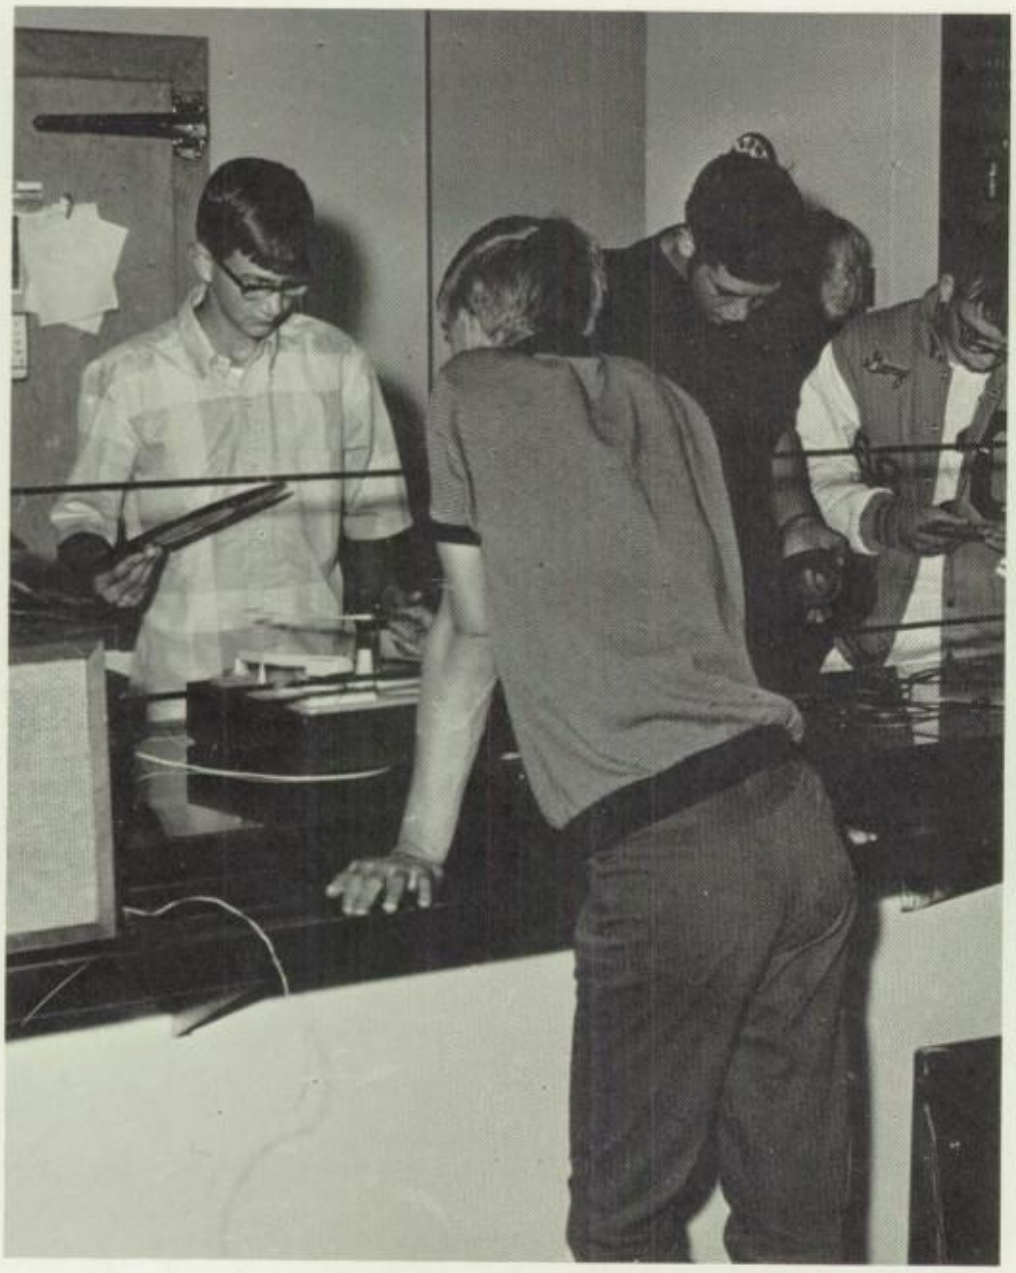
Joel Radcliffe and Gary Goodwin washed windows to help the work day fund.

Sandy Peterson and Frances Fentress also had a window washing job.

Members of the French Club sponsored a crêpe suzette feed before the Cle Elum game on October 4. A special treat was the strawberry crêpe.

The club members cleared about $60 profit from this affair.





The sophomores sponsored the mixer on October 4, following the game with Cle Elum.

Kaye Hood Reigns Over 1968 Homecoming Activities.

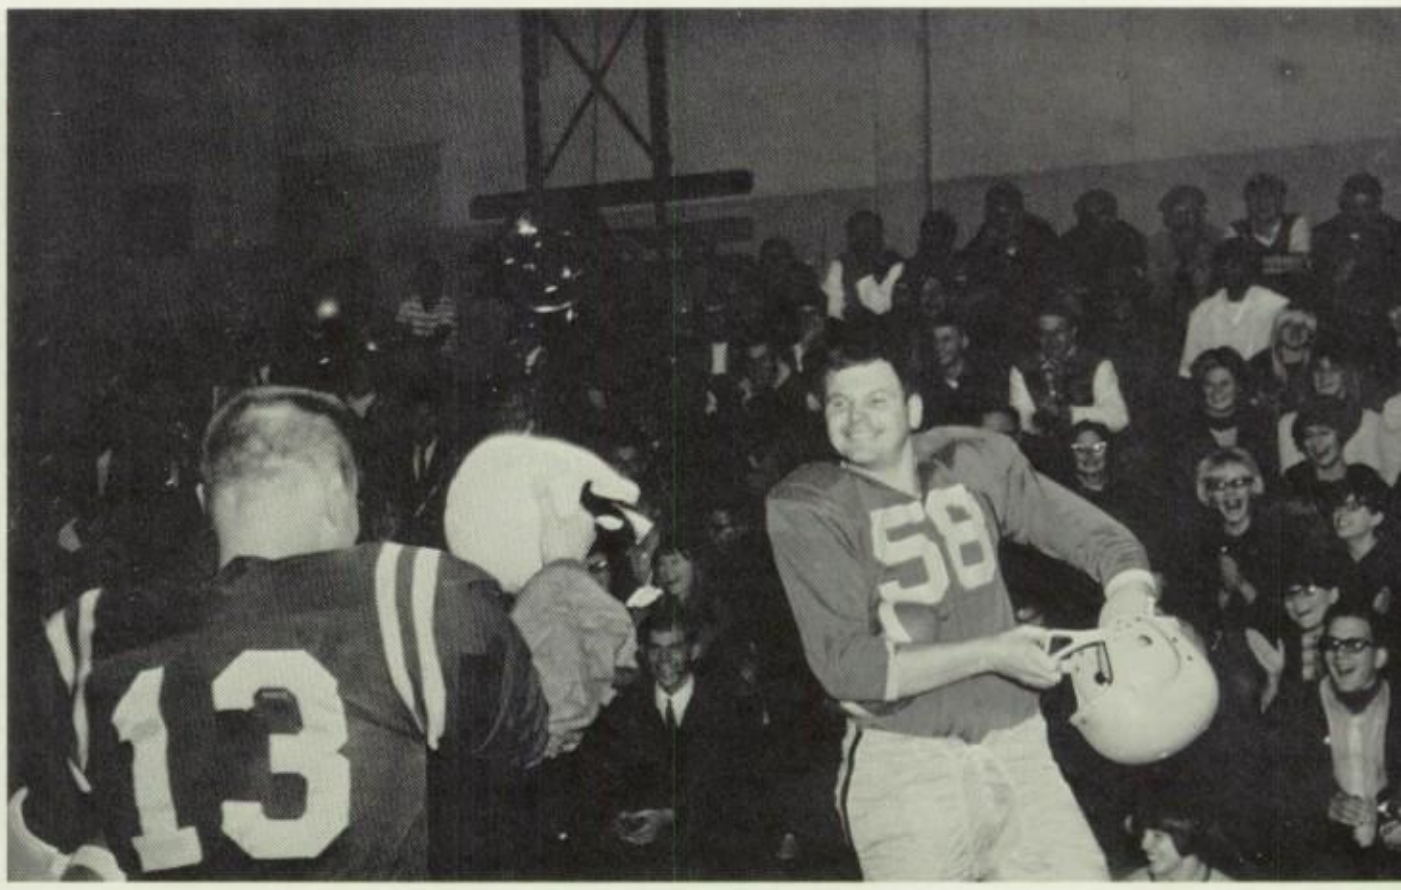
Kay Hood was crowned Queen of the 1968 homecoming activities at the pep rally on October 31. Kaye's escort for the ceremonies was Ted Wilkins.

Princesses of her court and their escorts were Susan Hornibrook and Gary Rowe, Linda Tsubota and Dennis Bickel, Judy Mitchell and Dennis Uecker, Jessica Shull and Mel Brink, Connie Jacobsen and Dan Dollarhide, Marsha Ward and Gary McHargue, Irene Wegner and Karl Amidon, Kristi Johnson and Mike McClure.

A.S.B. president John Wyckoff presided as master of ceremonies. Kaye then knighted each member of the football team.

Corsages, car streamers, faculty skit, alumni tea, bonfire—all are an important part of the homecoming tradition

Hot tea or coffee is a welcome treat to the G.H.S. alumni who were chilled by the November weather at the homecoming game. Colleen Cummins and Patricia Hinshaw presided at the tea table.



A skit by members of the faculty is always an amusing part of the pep rally.

Lettermen from the junior class worked for days to collect and build up the wood pile for the rally bonfire.

Karl Amidon was chosen as King of the Tolo dance which was held on November 30. Kaye Hood was his escort.

Karl Amidon was Santa Claus for this year's Christmas assembly. Joy Lorton was one of the elves who helped him hand out gifts to the teachers. Gary McHargue narrated the Christmas story.

The Girls' League members made Christmas toys for the Children's Day Care Center in Portland this year.

Pictured above are Irene Wegner and Marilyn Cole wrapping some of the gifts. Mary Jung, Nancy Hoctor, and Debbie Woolley were also among the many girls who helped get the gifts ready.

Irene Wegner, Kathleen Weddle, and Sue Hornibrook were initiated into the National Honor Society this spring. Irene was taken in as an honorary member since she had a 4. g.p. a. but had not attended school in this country before.

Mrs. Milam, advisor to FTA, was presented with a corsage by club president Gayle Sybouts at the FTA dinner.

The "slave" auction of the Girls' League Twirp Week brought in $119.45. Terri Wilkins was one of the girls "sold" by slave auctioneer Buz Ketcham.

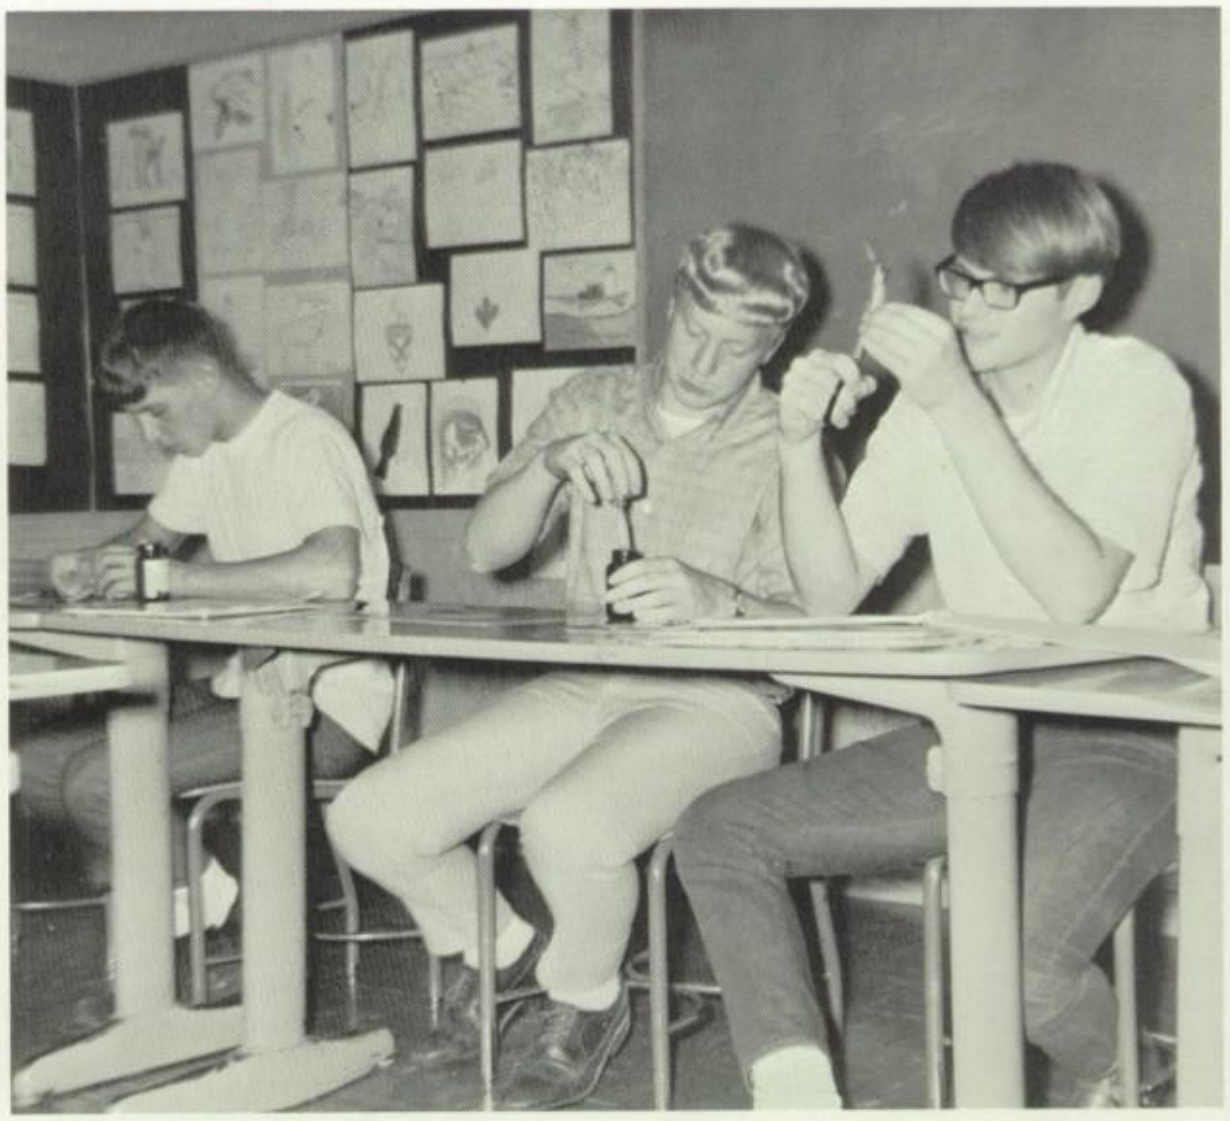
Seen Around The School

Although other school activities get most of the publicity, the biggest share of a student's time is spent in the classrooms.

Ron Wedgwood, Richard Lawson, and Jim Radcliffe are pictured cutting out pieces for their collages in art class.

Below — members of the art class are learning how to use water-colors.

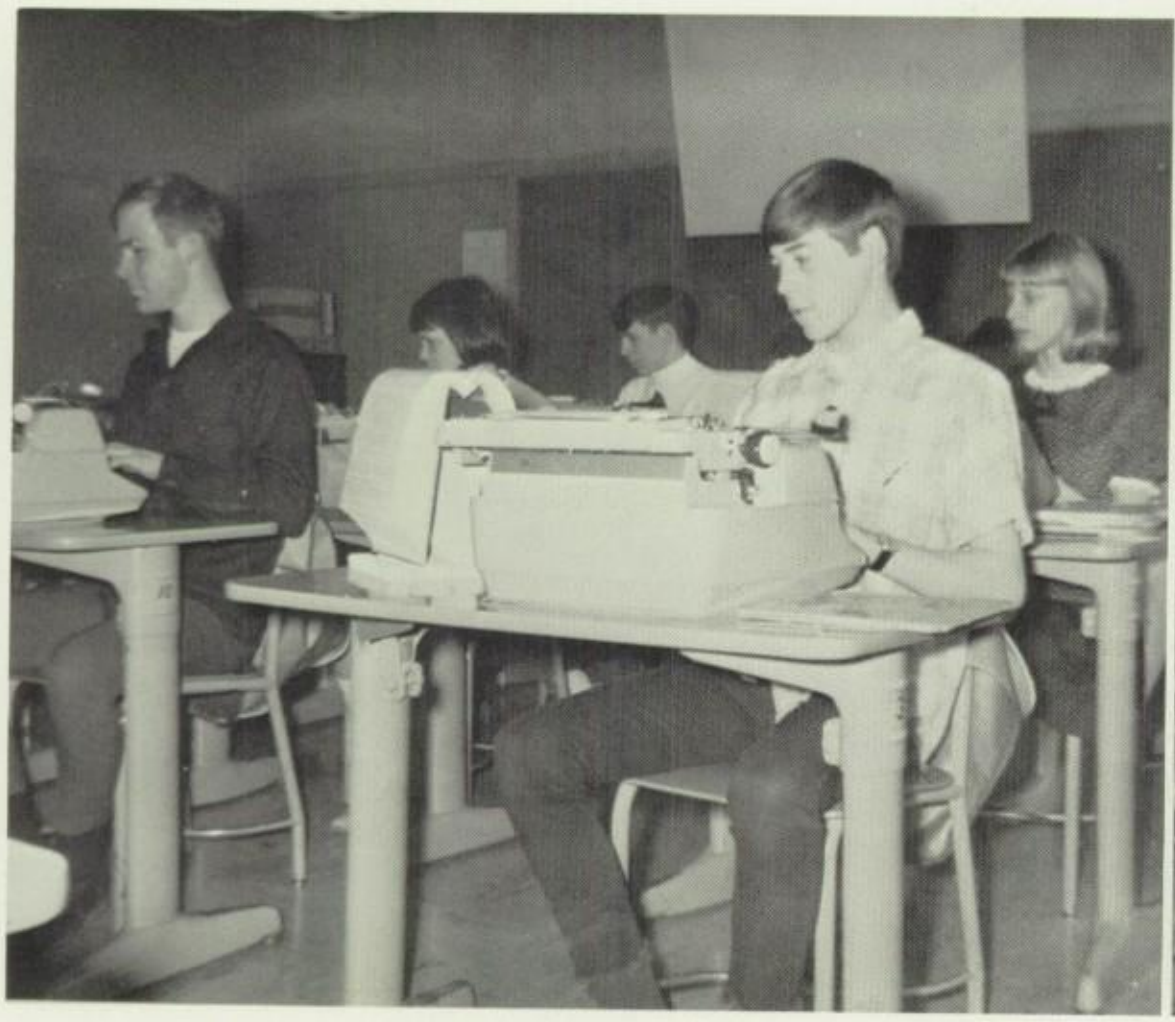


Classroom Work Is Important Too

Once again the D. E. class members set up a production line to make and sell their popular Christmas centerpieces.

The government classes handled the student polls for the mock national and state elections.

All set for a 5-minute timed write in typing.



Debra Burnham, Donna Bean, and Sandy McClure made pie crusts in their home ec. class.

Belinda Meyer, Nancy Hoctor, Terri Wilkins, and Sandy Pederson make use of the school library.

Shorthand students Kim Johnson, Kathleen Weddle, Jaci Krall, and Kristi Johnson took some dictation from phonograph records.

Mr. Chapman's English classes did much of their work in small groups.
